ROW OVER COST OF CIVIC DINNER

THE leader of the Labour group on Harlow Council has threatened to boycott this month's civic dinner in a row over the cost.

The council will spend around £4,000 on the black tie event, just weeks after an apparent lack of funds led to the annual Town Show being cancelled.

Up to 90 guests, including mayors and council leaders from neighbouring local authorities, are expected to tuck into the three-course meal which will be paid for out of council chairwoman Sue Living's £15,350 annual allowance.

Harlow councillors, local dignitaries and senior council officers will also be invited to the meal in the council chamber at Harlow Civic Centre.

Outside caterers are being brought in to supply the food and drink, and the official invitation even states that meals will be provided for guests' chauffeurs if required.

But this week furious Labour group leader Mark Wilkinson told the Star he would be boycotting the event, describing it as a waste of taxpayers' money.

Man wins £1.75m in settlement for PAH birth trauma

A MAN who suffered acute brain damage after being starved of oxygen during his birth at Princess Alexandra Hospital has received a £1.75m payout.

The man, who is in his 20s and described as "delightful but vulnerable" by his barrister James Badenoch, has difficulty walking and needs constant care and attention.

Referred to only as 'X' due to his extreme vulnerability, he sued the Princess Alexandra Hospital NHS Trust through his parents, alleging the hospital mismanaged his delivery by failing to carry out an emergency caesarean delivery in time to avert his catastrophic oxygen starvation.

He now suffers from spastic quadriplegia, epilepsy and severe learning difficulties.

"He has the body of a man but the mind of a very small child," Mr Badenoch told the High Court in London on Monday.

By COURT REPORTER
star@hertsexnews.co.uk

Mr Badenoch also paid tribute to the man's parents for their dedication. The care they had shown their son had been exemplary and was worthy of the greatest admiration, he said.

David Westcott, representing the trust, said it continued to deny liability in relation to the man's delivery but added it regretted the tragedy which overshadowed the joyous event of his birth.

The settlement was "heavily discounted" to reflect the risks of litigation, he added.

'X' was not in court to hear Mr Justice Foskett approve the payout and also commend his parents for their many years of devoted care.

Mr Justice Foskett said he was entirely content to approve the £1.75m settlement.

The case was taken up by Harlow law firm Attwaters, which specialises in cases of medical negligence.

Speaking after the hearing, partner and clinical negligence specialist Madeline Seibert said: "It would be good to be able to say that maternity services have improved over the years and that cases like this one can't happen any more.

"Unfortunately, though, we are constantly seeing much more recent cases in which children have been left tragically injured because of the inadequacies of NHS maternity care.

"This award comes as the Government is considering removing legal aid for medical negligence cases."

She added: "It's the second similar very high value award we've concluded in the past month, but without legal aid such cases may never come to court and justice would be denied."

Crews called to fires in two flats in half-an-hour

TWO women were treated for the effects of smoke inhalation following separate flat fires within the space of 30 minutes on Monday evening.

The first happened in a ground floor flat in Green Hills, Harlow, shortly after 6.30pm.

Firefighters were called to the property after an alarm was activated and smoke was seen coming from the kitchen.

Crews entered the premises to find the blaze had already been extinguished but used a high pressure fan to clear the property of smoke.

They also administered first aid to a woman in her 80s while waiting for paramedics to arrive.

No sooner had they finished at the first incident than they were called to a flat in nearby The Friars where a microwave had triggered a kitchen fire.

Again the flames had been extinguished before firefighters arrived. After carrying out an inspection to make sure the property was safe, they called the ambulance service to treat a woman in her 40s who was suffering from the effects of smoke inhalation.

Brian's all set to enjoy 3DTV

A LUCKY competition winner entered a new dimension in home entertainment after winning a state-of-the-art 3D TV from the Harlow Sony Centre.

Brian Newland scooped the eye-popping prize of a 40-inch Sony HX803 television, a pair of 3D glasses and a Playstation 3 games console after entering a competition run by the Queensgate store in the pages of the Star.

Floor manager Leon Bethel said: "Brian's one of our loyal customers so it was nice to see him win such a fantastic set of prizes.

"Until you've experienced 3D TV for yourself, you can't imagine what it brings to your viewing and gaming experience – it really is the future of home entertainment."

Mr Newland is pictured receiving his prizes from general manager Chris Fowler.

Still time to become a 2012 Games volunteer

RESIDENTS have until October 27 to apply for a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to have a role in the London 2012 Olympics.

A total of 70,000 volunteers are needed to ensure the games run smoothly, with successful applicants filling a variety of positions as 'Games Makers' – some in specialist sports, medical, press and anti-doping roles.

All volunteers will receive training prior to the Games as well as meal vouchers, free public transport and a souvenir uniform.

Tony Hall, Harlow Council's Olympic Champion, said: "With the London 2012 Olympic and Paralympic Games taking place on Harlow's doorstep, this is an opportunity for local people to help make the greatest sporting event on earth happen.

"Harlow has always had a strong voluntary sector and I hope many local volunteers will put their names forward and take up this unique opportunity."

Rower Acer Nethercott, who grew up in Harlow and won a silver medal at the 2008 Games, added: "The Olympics are magical, an amazing thing to be a part of, and by volunteering, people can get closer to the action and be a part of that magic.

"By volunteering and getting involved you can have the experience of a lifetime and help to make the London Olympics a distinctly British and truly memorable Games!"

To apply, log on to the website at www.london2012.com/volunteer.

Light relief for sea cadet unit

By DAN PHILLIPS

daniel.phillips@hertsessexnews.co.uk

THE future looks bright for local group of Sea Cadets after it received a donation of a new lighting system for their Harlow headquarters.

The Sea Cadet Corps have been based at the Bush Fair Play Barn, located behind the bowls club in Tailgate Road, for 14 years.

Although the building belongs to Harlow Council, it is leased by the unit and they are responsible for the upkeep of the facilities which were in desperate need of a bit of TLC.

But thanks to Harlow Business Park-based building and maintenance firm Rok, the group's base now boasts brand new lighting.

"I cannot thank Rok enough for taking on their project," said Mike Jezzard, the unit's chaplain and vice chairman.

"Bush Fair is an ideal location for the Sea Cadets but the lighting needed serious attention. Thanks to the help of Rok's technicians this is one less thing for us to think about."

The project to repair and refit the main lighting systems was part of Rok's community challenge initiative.

As part of the scheme the company delivers building and refurbishment projects for charities and local organisations free of charge.

Mark Temple from Rok said: "We were more than pleased to help out the local Sea Cadets. The work they do to help the positive development of young people in Harlow should not be underestimated and we were glad to supply our technicians to improve the lighting at their centre."

Harlow Sea Cadets currently has 30 cadets and 10 instructors. They take part in a range of character building activities based on the customs of the Royal Navy.

● Harlow Sea Cadets have planned a fundraising race night on Saturday at its Bush Fair HQ.

Tickets cost £3 or £10 for two adults and three children. Doors open 7.30pm and tickets can be purchased at the door. All money raised will go to the unit funds.

College stirs up support for charity coffee morning

A STIRRING effort by Harlow College staff and students during a coffee morning raised £210 for a cancer charity.

The college's training restaurant – the Skylight Brasserie – took part in Macmillan Cancer Support's World's Biggest Coffee Morning on Friday, September 24.

During the course of the day the students prepared and served tea and coffee as well as a light lunch.

Money was raised through voluntary donations from customers.

It is a cause close to the heart of training restaurant manager Jenny Reynolds, who has organised the college's Macmillan fundraisers for two years.

"One of my dearest school friends was diagnosed with breast cancer and thanks to organisations like Macmillan, she will be well informed about her options and what the charity can offer her," she said.

"I care so much about my friend and want to be there to support her, like so many others who want to look after their loved ones."

"Macmillan do an amazing job. The information, the treatment and the care that's around now is helping people with cancer to live longer with dignity and with hope."

MP's swim challenge

HARLOW MP Robert Halfon will be taking part in a sponsored swim later this year in aid of the local branch of the Alzheimer's Society.

"This will be my third swim and I hope to beat my record from last time of 2hrs 19mins non-stop," he said.

"The Alzheimer's Society has many stalwart volunteers who give so much of their time to help others. I have supported the charity in the past and will continue to do all I can to help raise awareness of the society and its great work locally."

"This is just one of the many charities that we are lucky enough to have in Harlow which does such great work to help people in our local community."

Ostomates' birthday

A SOCIAL networking group for people fitted with stomas is celebrating its first birthday today (Thursday) with a special lunch at Canons Brook Golf Club.

Connect is an informal meeting group for ostomates – patients with a colostomy, ileostomy or urostomy – and their families.

Members share experiences and offer each other practical advice and support on living with a stoma. It was set up by stoma care nurse Tracey Hart at the Princess Alexandra Hospital in Harlow and now has around 60 members.

The committee organise regular coffee mornings and various social events. Membership is open to all ages and both sexes.

To find out more about the group contact Tracey on (01279) 827072.

Wings donations

DONATIONS totalling £1,762 were collected in Harlow for the RAF Association's Wings Appeal marking the 70th anniversary of the Battle of Britain. Collections were made at the Harvey Centre, Harlow Town station and in the town centre last month.

Joan Simmons, appeal organiser for the Harlow branch of the association, thanked all those who donated.

'Wall' walk raises £50k for hospice

A GROUP of walkers who set off on a gruelling trek along the Great Wall of China have raised more than £50,000 for St Clare Hospice.

The team of 25 spent five days walking along the wall, one of the Seven Wonders of the Ancient World, last month.

The expedition took them across sections of the wall at Mutianyu, Gubeikou, Jinshanling and Juyong Guan. They also spent a day in Black Dragon Paw Park.

The terrain varied from restored parts of the wall, where their only obstacles were other tourists, to ruined sections made hazardous by crumbling steps and heavy overgrowth underfoot.

"It is very difficult to put into words what this trek was like!" said Tracy Stratford, events fundraiser for the Hastingwood hospice.

"It was so much tougher than I thought it was going to be but the camaraderie in the group was incredibly inspiring and the views were absolutely amazing.

"The fifth day was the most challenging with a 5am wake-up call for an early climb to see the sunrise over the wall, but the views were spectacular and emotions ran high.

"When your legs were aching and you felt tired, knowing that every step we took was

By DAN PHILLIPS
daniel.phillips@hertsexesnews.co.uk

helping to raise money for St Clare Hospice patients and their families was incredibly motivating to help us keep going."

Following the trek, the group enjoyed a well-earned rest with a day in Beijing and visit to the Forbidden City before heading back to England.

Harlow residents Kath Dixon, Fred Packham, Debbie Cook, Lorraine Brown, Jackie Kennedy, Bill Dickson, Steve Richens and Terry Minihane were among the 25-strong group.

The expedition took 14 months of preparations, with all participants having to train and raise cash.

Their efforts have raised around £50,000 for the hospice, enough to fund round-the-clock inpatient care for eight people over two weeks.

Anyone wanting to take part in next year's Great Wall of China trek from October 8-16, should email fund@stclarehospice.org.uk or call (01279) 773750.

"I would recommend this trek to anyone," said Tracy. "We had all fitness levels and ages from 18-63 years old taking part and we all completed it."

Youngsters on the receiving end of energy firm's shock safety warning

PUPILS at three schools in Harlow are being given a shocking lesson about the dangers of electricity at workshops run by energy firm EDF this month.

The lessons in safety at Church Langley Primary, Jerounds Junior and William Martin Junior schools will warn youngsters about the dangers of playing near electricity substations and overhead power lines.

Pupils will learn how high voltage electricity can jump gaps and be conducted through leisure equipment such as fishing rods and kites with tragic consequences.

They will also watch a video about a young boy who is fatally injured after ignoring triangular 'Danger of Death' signs which are placed around substations.

Sonya Keating, EDF Energy Networks education adviser, said: "These workshops ensure that the children understand the potential consequences of fooling around with electricity.

"The children really benefit from the visits and learn valuable safety lessons which will last them a lifetime."

Easing pain of chemo patients

A NEW piece of equipment is making life a little more comfortable for chemotherapy patients at Princess Alexandra Hospital.

A donation from the hospital's League of Friends and money raised by cancer nurse Dee Bray has paid for an ultrasound machine to guide the insertion of peripherally inserted central catheter (PICC) lines into patients.

The device also enables specialists to find a number of suitable veins to administer the treatment. The equipment means the PICC can be inserted into a vein higher up the arm than the elbow, resulting in less pain for the patient and reduced risk of the line becoming damaged.

Jill Herbert, head of cancer nursing at PAH, said, "The equipment is a welcome addition to the tools that ease vascular access, increasing success rates and avoiding complications."

Adding ultrasound guidance to an existing PICC programme increases the success rate for insertions to more than 90 per cent.

MP backs call to reduce pressure on A&E

HARLOW MP Robert Halfon is backing calls by hospital chiefs who are urging people to think twice before using the casualty department at Princess Alexandra Hospital as an alternative to their GP surgery.

The campaign, launched this week by the PAH NHS Trust, aims to reduce the pressure put on the emergency department by people turning up for treatment that could easily be administered by their doctor.

Posters now on display in the department give patients clear guidance on serious illnesses or injuries that require immediate emergency care and highlight the fact that treatment for more everyday conditions can be found elsewhere in the NHS.

The hospital treats nearly 90,000 emergencies annually.

Mr Halfon said: "I am really pleased to be supporting colleagues at the hospital in helping them to deliver a message to local residents about using NHS services effectively."

"We are asking people to think before coming in whether they really need to be here and not elsewhere."

"By doing so it means that nurses and doctors are able to deal with the general emergencies in a timely way."

People who have concerns about an ongoing health problem or a minor injury should contact their GP, the Walk-In Centre, a pharmacist or NHS Direct before visiting A&E.

Work due to start on road crossing

By DAN PHILLIPS

daniel.phillips@hertsessexnews.co.uk

WORK will start later this month on a new pedestrian crossing on a busy road used by students heading to and from Harlow College.

A Toucan crossing on Velizy Avenue connecting the college campus with the town centre and bus station was supposed to be completed before students returned after the summer break.

But work on the project has been delayed because of limited access due to the construction of the new Anglia Ruskin University campus on the college site.

Earlier this year members of the Students' Union at the college collected signatures on a petition calling for action to improve safety for pedestrians crossing the dual carriageway.

Harlow MP Robert Halfon has worked with Essex County Council, which has responsibility for roads in the town, to make sure that improvements were delivered.

After contacting County Hall, he told the Star this week: "There was a delay a couple of weeks ago which has pushed the start date back to the end of October."

"There was a problem because of the building on the new university site. That's the main reason why work hasn't started yet."

"I've been working very hard for this because I want it to happen. A new crossing and better signs across the road will make a big difference."

Harlow resident Ray Statham, whose 16-year-old daughter attends the college, has been outspoken in his calls for a safer crossing point and said he was sceptical about any new promises.

"The fact is that four weeks after the students started we've yet to see any work starting, despite all the promises," he said. "It's all very vague as well with no specific date set for work."

In a letter to Mr Statham, Mr Halfon said: "Rest assured I will follow this closely until the project is delivered."

A spokesman for Essex County Council confirmed to the Star that work would start on the crossing by the end of the month.

"The contractor is currently in discussions with Harlow College and work is scheduled to begin at the end of October," he said.

Sisters jailed for smashing up TV

By COURT REPORTER
star@hertsessexnews.co.uk

TWO sisters who confronted a man over "inappropriate" comments he allegedly made towards their cousin were this week jailed for 17 weeks for smashing up his TV with a hammer.

But Kayleigh Blunnie (24) and Michelle Thorne (26) walked free from Chelmsford Crown Court because they had been held in prison on remand since the incident in August.

Thorne, of Canons Brook, Harlow, and Blunnie, of Westfield, Harlow, pleaded guilty to a joint charge of criminal damage.

Richard Scott, prosecuting, told the court Blunnie called at the home of their victim, Mark Cooper, in Brockles Mead on August 1. As the two women, one of whom was brandishing a metal pole, entered his home he fled through the back door and went to his sister's house.

Mr Cooper's sister returned to his home as the defendants were leaving and found his television had been smashed and two chairs damaged.

"Thorne made some comments about Mr Cooper being somebody who has an unhealthy interest in children," said Mr Scott.

The prosecution said that when Thorne, who had previously been in a relationship with Mr Cooper, was arrested she told police they had gone round to speak to him about "upsetting" comments he had allegedly made to their cousin.

Mr Scott continued: "The suggestion is that Mr Cooper had either said or done something inappropriate with a young relation of Thorne's."

The court heard that although Thorne was carrying a metal pole when she entered her ex-boyfriend's home the television set had been smashed up with a hammer.

James Howard, appearing for Thorne, said in mitigation: "They were invited into the property. They went to have words with him, not to commit criminal damage."

"He clearly knew what it was all about and ran out of the back door and it was out of frustration she picked up a hammer and caused the damage."

The court heard both women had previous convictions for shoplifting, assault and disorderly behaviour.

Judge Rodger Hayward Smith described the pair's criminal records as "appalling" and said the offence merited a custodial sentence.

Residents celebrate common room refurb with a night out at the dogs

RESIDENTS living at a Harlow sheltered housing complex celebrated the refurbishment of their common room with a trip to the dogs.

The group from Halyday House, in Hull Grove, were so careful with the cash used to pay for the refurb that they had enough left over for a flutter at Harlow Stadium.

John Thatcher, a spokesman for the residents, said that they had a great time.

"I lost but one of the ladies here was betting on the same trap all night which came in about six times and she did very well," he said.

The redecoration of the common room saw the old purple walls and curtains replaced with a bright, modern new look.

The work was paid for by the residents but they managed to save cash by calling on the help of friends to help.

Labour leader slams civic dinner as waste of money

due to a lack of funds and made swinging cuts to frontline services, I am astonished they can condone such an extravagant waste of taxpayers' money," he fumed.

"It is a slap in the face for hard-working residents who have been forced to cut back in these hard times and shows a huge lack of respect for the taxpaying public who will be funding this ridiculous dinner."

And in a reference to last November's private party held to celebrate the successful roll-out of the new refuse collection scheme, he said: "The Tories obviously haven't learned from the mistakes they made with the notorious wheeley bin party."

"They should be setting an example to residents of how to embrace this so-called age of austerity, not patting themselves on the back with a slap-up meal."

Liberal Democrat group leader Chris Millington said the dinner would serve a useful purpose in promoting the town, but added the same thing could have been achieved on a far bigger scale by hosting a Town Show.

"If I could choose between the Town Show and the civic dinner I would clearly far rather attend the Town Show as it is a hugely popular event that serves the dual purpose of entertaining residents while promoting the town," he told the Star.

"It is to the eternal shame of the Tory administration that the show was cancelled this year, especially seeing as they reported an underspend on last year's budget and clearly could have afforded to put the event on."

But council leader Andrew Johnson dismissed the criticism, arguing that the dinner would help to raise the profile of Harlow within Essex and provide an opportunity for members to network with councillors from other authorities.

"The council already has one of the smallest budgets for the chairman of any council in Essex and does not have a car and driver like some," he added.

"The chairman does require a small budget to carry out their civic role and promote Harlow. We will, of course, be looking at all budgets, including the chairman's budget, in the coming year."

MP can't support cuts and then protest at the impact

SIR, I note that our MP Robert Halfon has declared he wants to protect our local magistrates court from the cuts of the Government he supports (Star, September 30).

This means that Mr Halfon votes to support cuts at Westminster where he has power to do something about it, then decries the impact of these cuts locally. I then discovered our MP is also supporting the setting up of a UK version of the American Tea Party movement, which is to the right of George Bush's Republicans and advocates very low taxes and massive cuts in public spending. Mr Halfon is one of the Tory MPs who spoke out in support of this movement, saying he saw it as a protest against big government and high taxes.

I've seen Stan Newens, Jerry Hayes and Bill Rammell serve as our MP and I haven't always agreed with what they did. But you never had a sense they would say one thing in Harlow and something completely different at Westminster where, as our representative, they have clout.

It is beginning to look like Mr Halfon may be setting a very different standard and one that most would find quite unacceptable. Harlow deserves better.

Tax band freeze favours wealthy

SIR, Any suggestion by MP Robert Halfon that reviewing the council tax bands would hit poorer families is clearly nonsensical (Star, September 30).

The council tax raised with a band review would clearly see wealthier families paying a greater proportion of the tax taken. This is because the value of their homes has rocketed since 1993.

By not reviewing the council tax bands the Conservatives are favouring the very people who voted them into power.

Keith Watson
Bishops Avenue, Bishop's Stortford

Rammell is still sitting on fence

SIR, So former MP Bill Rammell welcomes the election of Ed Miliband as the new leader of the Labour Party, despite having backed his brother for the job (Star, September 30).

Yet again he manages to sit on the fence and face both ways at the same time.

Is this the same Bill Rammell who strongly, loudly and publicly backed Gordon Brown for the job of last Labour leader? My back copies of the Star tell me that it is!

Readers will recall that as Chancellor of the Exchequer, Gordon Brown - Mr Rammell's chosen candidate - prepared the way for international bankers to destroy the UK economy with his light touch regulation, presided over the first run on a

Sculpture casualties fewer than in other towns

SIR, As organisers of the Harlow Summertime Sheep Trail, we were aware of the risks of placing these fun fibreglass sculptures in public spaces and made provision for any damages that might occur.

Of the 29 sheep on the trail, only four have had to go to the vets during the past two months for reconstructive surgery. The doctors and nurses at Nicholls Build have done a wonderful job, quickly collecting the injured sheep, together with their plinths, and getting them back to health as quickly as possible.

This actually compares quite well with other towns and cities in the UK where similar sculptures have been erected over the past several years. As a result, I don't consider the idiotic acts of a few people, whether under the influence or not, to be a particular indictment of this town.

As your correspondent noted in last week's Star, it has been fun. Every day since the end of July I've seen children petting and talking to the sheep, and I've seen parents and grandparents getting great enjoyment from them as well.

The children who have coloured in the cardboard lambs distributed through the town's primary schools before the summer break have had a great time participating in this as well, and the results of their efforts can be seen in the front windows of Harlow's Civic Centre.

The trail continues until the end of this month and I would remind all parents whose children haven't yet returned their lambs to the lamb pen outside Asda in The Water Gardens foyer to do so quickly as there are great prizes to be won for the best decorated and best named lambs in each year group from Reception to Year 6.

Three errors in pie chart

SIR, I would like to ask councillors if the article on page six of Harlow Council's magazine Harlow Times - 'How your council tax is spent' - has actually been checked and approved?

I am always interested in looking at pie charts and was especially interested in the final one listing what the money is spent on. Unfortunately, it is wrong on three counts:

1) 'Revenue' cannot be what the money is spent on. In business, revenue is income that a company receives from its normal business activities, usually from the sale of goods and services to customers.

2) 'Other' - how can 'other' be the second highest expenditure? Surely it is not normal procedure to allow a blanket covering of 'other' for the second highest expenditure?

3) Look carefully at the chart and it seems that 'other' - at £10.1m - has a much smaller segment than 'car parks' at £3.9m. Is this a mistake or an intentional error?

I would like someone from Harlow Council to please explain all three of these issues.

Jenny Titmuss

Thanks for all your support

SIR, I would like to say a big thank you to all those who sponsored my attempt to climb Ben Nevis.

As chair of Harlow Council last year, I chose as my charity Caring for Harlow Young Carers.

My final act as chair was to raise money for the charity by an attempt to climb Ben Nevis.

Unfortunately I did not succeed in reaching the top but gave up at 1,000 metres, which is the height of a Munro [a mountain in Scotland with a height over 3,000ft].

Despite this, sponsors still agreed to donate with the result that, last Tuesday, I was able to give the young carers a cheque for £1,070. Thank you very much to everyone who donated.

Don't lose out on referendum vote

SIR, There has already been a lot of interest in the Government's proposal to hold a referendum throughout the UK on the voting system we use to elect our MPs.

This is due to take place on May 5 next year when there will also be local government elections in some parts of England.

Now is the time for Star readers to make sure they have filled in and returned the annual canvass forms they will have received through the post to make sure they are on the electoral register.

You can even request a postal vote now so that no matter where you'll be on polling day, you won't miss your chance to have your say.

Our website - www.aboutmyvote.co.uk - has lots of information about the annual canvass and forthcoming elections and referendums.

Warning over letters scam

POLICE are warning Harlow residents to be wary of hoax letters demanding cash for supposed damage caused to the sender's car.

Copies of the letter have been sent to a number of people across the town, claiming the recipient owes money for repairs to the author's car.

Two people have been arrested in connection with the scam. Both have since been released on bail while police investigations into the identity of the author continues.

Anyone with any information about the scam should contact PC Mark Goodings at Harlow police station on 0300 333 4444.

Library hosts careers day

JOBSEEKERS should head to Harlow Library tomorrow (Friday) for advice and guidance on finding work in the area.

The library will be holding a careers day from 11am-3pm which will include a CV and interview workshop and the opportunity to discuss options with experts from local firms.

Jeremy Lucas, Essex County Council cabinet member for heritage, culture and the arts, said: "It's great to see the library service has come up with this innovative idea to help jobseekers in Harlow find work."

For more information about the careers day, call (01279) 413772.

Celebratory start to Black History Month

A MONTH-long celebration of Harlow's ethnic diversity kicked off on Saturday with a launch party in Market Square.

The celebration included food, arts and craft stalls, live music, dance and other performances to mark the start of Black History Month. During the month there will be a host of events aimed at all the family.

"It was a great day," organiser Efua Sey Koi-Larby told the Star after the launch. "We had 40 children from Harlow schools taking part in the dance and everyone very much enjoyed it."

She added that there was a different feel to the celebrations this year as funding for the events had been cut back.

"We have lots of events over the month for the whole family," she said. "This year we have very limited resources but within that we have much more information about multiculturalism in Harlow."

The programme continued with a story-telling event at Harlow Central Library and a production of The Legend of Aku Sika by the Efua Sey Cultural Academy at the Playhouse yesterday (Wednesday).

For those who missed out on story-telling and traditional games, there will be more from 9.30-10am on Monday at Old Harlow Library in High Street.

The fun and informative sessions will then be repeated at Tye Green and Great Parndon libraries next Friday and Monday (October 15 and 18 respectively) and at Mark Hall library on Tuesday, October 26.

By DAN PHILLIPS

Music lovers won't miss a beat at African drumming and dance workshops held at St Andrew's Methodist Church in The Stow from 4.30-6.30pm on Wednesday (October 13), with follow-up sessions at the same time on the following two Wednesdays.

The academy will also host a poetry recital and story telling event at the Gibberd Gallery in Harlow Civic Centre on Wednesday, October 27 from 11am-2pm.

The month-long programme will be capped off on October 30 with a dazzling dramatic production of The Devil's Wife by Ebo White at St Andrew's Church from 7pm.

Don't cut fire scheme, head tells minister

By DAN PHILLIPS

daniel.phillips@hertsessexnews.co.uk

THE headteacher of a Harlow secondary school has called on the Government to ringfence funding for a successful scheme for young offenders run by the fire service.

Vic Goddard, of Passmores School, highlighted the importance of the Firebreak project during a meeting with Bob Neill, Parliamentary Under Secretary of State at the Department of Communities and Local Government with responsibility for the fire service.

The meeting took place during a pair met during an official visit by Mr Neill to Essex County Fire and Rescue Service's headquarters on Thursday.

Firebreak is a week-long intensive course for 14-15 year-olds that takes them through the same disciplines as fire service recruits. They learn how to use breathing apparatus and high powered jet hoses, take part in ladder rescues and learn about the importance of teamwork.

FIRED UP:

Mr Goddard told Mr Neill how important Firebreak is in turning around the lives of young people who are in danger of heading off the tracks.

"There is not one pupil who has not been changed by the course. It is incredibly important and it would be tragic if it became a victim of the cuts," he said.

He said that for one pupil at Passmores the course had been a life-changer. "He came from a family background of long-term unemployment and really did not think about his future at all.

"He went on the Firebreak course and came back changed. He is now doing a public services course at college and working hard to become a firefighter.

"This was once a boy who had no ambition at all. Now, thanks to Firebreak, he is not only going to college but will go into full time employment hopefully in a job which serves the community.

"Firebreak changes lives for the better and it is important and I wanted the minister to know that this scheme should not be a victim of cuts."

The scheme enjoys a huge success rate with more than 90 per cent of young people never offending again after the course.

On May 6 Robert Halfon was elected Conservative MP for Harlow, winning a 4,925 vote majority over Labour's Bill Rammell. This week, writing exclusively for the Star, Mr Halfon looks back over his first five months as Harlow's man at Westminster.

My first five months as a Commons man

BEFORE I was elected just 19 weeks ago, I pledged to work for better roads, apprenticeships, and support Harlow housing. My aim here is to give you an update of what I have been up to as your new MP.

ROADS

Regular readers will know that many residents are fed up with Harlow traffic and for this reason I have been fighting hard for an extra M11 junction north of the town for years.

At last we are getting somewhere. I have worked with Essex Council to secure a major investment of over £500,000 into a new junction, which they have now said is their number one priority in Essex.

I was able to secure a debate in the House of Commons urging the Government to support an extra junction on the M11. Transport minister Norman Baker stated "I congratulate my Hon. Friend, the Member for Harlow, on securing this debate on traffic and the road network in Harlow and on the strong presentation of his case this morning."

"Although only recently elected to the House, he has already asked questions about traffic and road issues in Harlow and I am pleased to respond to his first Adjournment Debate on a subject that is clearly of great importance to him and his constituents."

Other work has included securing a new pelican crossing for Velizy Avenue in the town centre, and £900,000 to improve our cycle ways along Southern Way.

I am currently working with Latton Green School to try to get road safety measures for Commons Road.

APPRENTICESHIPS

From October this year I am proud to say that the first MP apprentice – from Harlow College – will be working with me in the House of Commons. Dean Barclay, of Harlow Greyhound Stadium, has generously agreed to sponsor some of the costs alongside Essex County Council.

After a sustained campaign, including speaking in six debates in Parliament, I was delighted to secure extra apprenticeships funding for lone parents and deprived students in Harlow.

As I said in my first-ever speech in the House of Commons: "If we give young people the necessary skills and training, we give them opportunities and jobs for the future. This is about social justice and helping people to help themselves."

HOUSING

In my view there needs to be an urgent shake-up in the law to enable rents paid by Harlow tenants to be ploughed back into local housing rather than be handed over to the Government.

Housing minister Grant Shapps has answered a question that I asked in Parliament recently. It revealed that the previous Labour government took over £13m a year from Harlow's housing money in the past few years to be spent elsewhere in the country.

In my view this is outrageous and I am campaigning to keep Harlow housing money for Harlow people so that housing money raised in Harlow is spent on improving Harlow houses.

RAILWAY SUICIDES

I am very concerned that Harlow has a disproportionate number of railway suicides compared to other areas.

I have raised this problem in the Commons and had a meeting with the Chief Superintendent of British Transport Police. I am calling for a fuller debate on dealing with railway suicides in Harlow and across the country to see what can be done to solve this tragic problem.

MEETING THE BOSS: Harlow MP Robert Halfon with Prime Minister David Cameron

CASEWORK

I have replied to over 6,387 emails and letters helping local people with problems or issues they raise. I have also held 13 surgeries and seen hundreds of people individually.

Over the coming months I will also be holding early morning surgeries in schools for any parents who wish to see me after dropping off their children.

If you would like to book an appointment at a surgery, please visit my website – www.roberthalfon.com – or call (01279) 311451. For a tour of Parliament, please call 0207 219 7223. You can also visit www.theyworkforyou.com to see some of my activities in the House of Commons.

I look forward to hearing from you, and will always try to answer your questions fairly.

Halfon Hotseat

LATER this month the Star will be launching an exclusive new column giving our readers the chance to quiz Harlow MP Robert Halfon on the issues that matter to them.

Halfon In The Hotseat will run as a fortnightly feature where the town's Conservative MP answers your questions on local and national issues including law and order, the health service, education and the economy.

We will select the best questions submitted by readers and put them to Mr Halfon, who will then give his opinions on the fortnight's hot topics in the following week's edition of the Star.

"I welcome the opportunity to reach out to my constituents through the pages of the Star and listen to their problems and concerns," he said.

"I want to get as much feedback from Harlow residents as possible, and the Star is the ideal forum in which to discuss readers' questions on key issues."

"There are no strict guidelines on what readers can ask me and I promise to give straight, honest answers on everything from housing problems to spending cuts."

To submit your question to Mr Halfon, email the Star at star@hertsessexnews.co.uk or write to Harlow Star, 6 West Gate, Harlow, Essex CM20 1JW. All questions must be accompanied by the name and postal address of the author. Questions submitted anonymously will not be considered.

Police enforce closure order on drugs den

By CHRIS MOSS
chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

DRUG users have been barred from congregating at an address in Harlow after police secured a 'crack house' closure order from magistrates.

Officers acting on reports of persistent anti-social behaviour and drug use at the flat in Sewell Harris Close applied for the order at Harlow Magistrates Court on Friday.

The property was one of six raided by police last month during a co-ordinated operation to catch suspected drug users and burglars. It will now be closed off for a period of three months.

The order prevents anyone from entering or staying at the property while it is in force and could result in the current tenant – a 21-year-old man – being permanently evicted from his home.

PC Rob Sherrington, who spear-

NO ENTRY:

PC Rob Sherrington pins the closure order notice to the door of the flat in Sewell Harris Close (s) headed police efforts to obtain the closure order, said he hoped it would bring peace and normality back to the neighbourhood.

"I'm delighted with the result we've achieved," he said. "I hope this closure order sends a clear message to anybody using drugs or acting anti-socially from their home that this type of behaviour will not be tolerated.

"Essex Police will continue to close premises that are used in this way to bring some immediate relief to the local community."

He said closures of premises being used for drug-taking and other anti-social behaviour depend on local residents contacting police or the local council.

Golfers raise £2,000 for charity

IT might not have had the same glamour as the Ryder Cup but a charity golf event at Canons Brook Golf Club in Harlow has raised more than £2,000 for the President's Sporting Club.

Almost 100 players braved the wet weather last Wednesday to play in the four-ball challenge.

The teams were then treated to lunch provided by the club and entertainment from a stand-up comedian.

The event concluded with an auction featuring signed and framed prints of sporting personalities.

The President's Sporting Club supports youngsters with special needs by providing sporting facilities and opportunities.

More news of man of science

By DAN PHILLIPS

daniel.phillips@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A COUPLE of weeks ago we revisited a story about Harlow scientist Cyril Drake and a substance called Vitrilease.

Back in 1985 the discovery of the material at STL was hailed as one of the "greatest of our time" and we posed the question to our readers about what became of it - and its inventor.

As usual Nostalgia was swamped with responses, including one from Cyril's youngest daughter Katie Dunn, who now lives in Chester.

STL was famous for its development of fibre optic technology. Because of Cyril's expertise in the field he was asked to find why glass delay lines in TV sets were degraded by moisture and to research new formulae that might work better.

"In a relatively short time he mapped out a whole new set of glass chemistry in which he could design the rate at which glass would dissolve in water," said Katie.

"It was a classic challenge for Dad - 'if I can make designer glass materials that dissolve in water at controlled rates, then what can I do with them?'"

"Ideas flew thick and fast - add trace copper to kill snails while not harming people, add trace silver to make catheters that would not become infected, selenium to keep cows healthy, zinc to make better paints."

In 1982 he received an OBE for his work. Sadly, he was diagnosed with a terminal cancer early in 1992 and passed away a few months later.

Over his lifetime he had registered

Our greatest discovery has now vanished

By MAINA KEDDAN

SOME 25 years ago a Harlow-based scientist named Cyril Drake was hailed for producing one of the "greatest discoveries of our time".

The former chief scientist followed a trail on a Standard Telephone Laboratory for producing one of the "greatest discoveries of our time".

The material was hailed as one of the "greatest discoveries of our time".

more than 120 patents with perhaps 40 or more relating to his work on controlled release-glass. Many were filed after he was 60.

"Dad was a tireless inventor and often used his children as guinea pigs," said Katie. "When young we were tested to see how we learned to recognise letters and from this Dad made a very early invention in computer recognition of reading!"

"Throughout his final months we were all roped in again to assist in his continued experiments from his bedside and he continued to file patents for new ideas until his death. "During his illness he was nursed at home by his wife Sheila, a largely unsung hero who played an important role in supporting his research throughout his life as well as making many positive contributions to improving the world in her own right."

Cyril left four children - Miles, James, Sally and, of course, Katie.

Nostalgia would like to thank all of those who wrote in response to our story. We will try to feature more of them over the coming weeks.

DO YOU REMEMBER?

DO you remember Maggie Felstead - Harlow's first ever woman park warden?

Maggie, pictured above, of Brays Mead, was also the volunteer leader of the play scheme for five years before taking up the warden post.

She told the local press at the time of her appointment as park warden that she was not worried about working with men and did not feel inferior to them.

Sadly she died in 1968 at the age of just 47.

Newspaper cuttings were kindly lent to Nostalgia by Maggie's daughter Linda Collier, from Roydon.

If you remember Maggie or the play scheme, send your memories to Nostalgia, Harlow Star, 6 West Gate, Harlow, CM20 1JW or email daniel.phillips@hertsessexnews.co.uk.

Paperboy's surprise

Pupils aid starving

Pupils at Mark Hall School are busy filling up sacks with food to send to the starving millions in Africa. In the past three weeks they have sent off 12 large sacks filled with food items such as rice and lentils.

Missing kestrel

A tame 10-week-old kestrel may be living in Harlow's woodland after a gust of wind snatched it from its owner. Jet is owned by telephone engineer Terry Garrard who was hoping to train it in falconry.

School strike threat

A series of day strikes by teachers could mean closures for many Harlow schools. The action over pay by the NAS/UWT union follows school closures this week as NUT members rallied in Chelmsford. £117 and caused £25-worth of damage.

Paws in the pews at pets' blessing

IT was a case of all creatures great and small at a Harlow church on Sunday when pet owners were invited to take along their furry or feathered friends for a special paws in the pews service.

Gowers, with a menagerie of dogs, cats, guinea pigs, hamsters and chickens.

The animals were led or carried through a rainbow arch before being blessed by animal-loving vicar Rev Lynn Hurry, pictured left.

"It was a wonderful service and we had a really impressive turnout," she the Star. "All the animals received individual blessings, with three very sick pets getting a special blessing."

"The dogs all joined in with the hymns but listened attentively throughout the sermon – all except my dog of course, who was very vocal throughout. Perhaps that was because she'd heard it all before!"

She added: "In the past some owners have reported that the blessing drew forth more loving behaviour in their pets, so hopefully this year's service will have been just as successful!"

The service raised £60 for local animal shelter Mutts In Distress.

Accompanied on their adventure by teacher Karen Wilson, the pair were invited to participate in an international dance extravaganza after impressing during a ballet performance at the Royal Albert Hall in June.

They joined dancers from schools across China on stage as part of UK National Day at the Shanghai Expo 2010, rubbing shoulders with British royalty after the sell-out show when Prince Andrew went backstage to congratulate them on their performance.

A school spokeswoman told the Star: "It was an amazing dance and cultural experience that the students, and no doubt the audience, will remember forever."

WATER LANE PRIMARY:

Pupils swapped their books for bongos when they took part in an African drumming workshop. Dan Sceats, from Essex Music Services, taught one class tub-thumping techniques and plans to return to the school, in Broadley Road, so that all the children get a chance to have a go.

Headteacher Denise Luxton said:

"We have found them a hall that is away from the classrooms.

"We decided we would spend our music support money on not just one workshop but a series of workshops so that all the children at the school get a chance to take part.

"Some of the older children were especially good."

GATEWAY NURSERY:

Children collected items of food to celebrate this year's harvest festival and then donated them to a Harlow charity that helps people in crisis.

Tots at the nursery in the Gateway Centre, in Perry Road, also sang harvest-themed songs for their parents.

The food was donated to Harlow Foodbank which then passes it on to individuals and families in need of help.

"The Foodbank is based in the same centre as us and asked us if we would like to collect for them," said nursery owner Emma Pike.

"What is nice about it is that it's for local people. The children really enjoyed the day, especially having their parents here, too."

Farmer David is king of the pumpkin patch

A FARMER in Lincolnshire is hoping to carve out a successful career selling pumpkins after growing THREE MILLION in time for Hallowe'en!

David Bowman, from Spalding, has produced Europe's biggest pumpkin harvest – but could have grown even more if the weather had been better. Their growth has been hampered by torrential rain and heatwaves in the changeable British summer.

But fortunately for the 62-year-old farmer, they have ripened at just the right time and are now being picked.

Around 100 staff are working round the clock to get the pumpkins ready for sale in time for Hallowe'en on October 31, picking 100,000 every hour!

Mr Bowman admitted he can't wait to be able to sit back and relax on November 1.

He told reporters: "It's been a very average year in terms of the pumpkin crop because the weather was either too dry or too wet over the summer.

"But we still expect to harvest around three million pumpkins which is a marvellous crop for an average year.

"We are so busy at the moment getting everything ready for Hallowe'en and I will be glad when it's all over on November 1.

"When you are carving out your pumpkin this year think about us harvesting in the wind and rain!"

>>what's going on in Harlow

>>MUSIC A top Glenn Miller tribute show swings into the Playhouse tonight (Thursday) to celebrate the life and music of one of America's most popular band leaders and composers. Featuring timeless classics including Moonlight Serenade, Chatanooga Choo Choo, Tuxedo Junction and In The Mood performed by the renowned Sue Greenway Orchestra, the show starts at 8pm and tickets cost £16 (£14 concessions).

>>DANCE One of Harlow's longest-running dance schools presents an electrifying new show at the Playhouse on Friday and Saturday. Now in its 46th year, the Brenda Taylor School Of Dancing has an excellent track record of preparing its students for successful showbiz careers - so pop along and catch the stars of tomorrow in an evening of ballet, tap, song, drama and all that jazz. Performances begin at 7.30pm (Saturday matinee at 3pm) and tickets cost £12.

>>MUSIC The inspirational life and music of reggae legend Bob Marley is celebrated at a special tribute show at the Playhouse on Sunday. Nine-piece band Zion will perform hits including I Shot The Sheriff, Could You Be Loved, Redemption Song and One Love. The show starts at 7pm and tickets cost £16 (£14 concessions).

>>MUSIC Neil Sands and his cast of West End performers return to the Playhouse on Wednesday afternoon with a feelgood show packed full of musical memories from the 1940s-1970s with songs by the likes of Dame Vera Lynn, Elvis Presley and ABBA. The show begins at 2.30pm and tickets cost £12 (£11 concessions).

>>COMEDY Stand-up comedian and impressionist Felix Dexter, right, brings his multiple personalities and confrontational brand of nonsense humour to the Playhouse on Thursday in an explosively funny new show. Best known for his appearances on BBC 2 comedy Bellamy's People, Felix has also guested on Have I Got News For You and Radio 4's Down The Line. The show starts at 8pm and tickets cost £16 from (01279) 431945.

Follow the trail of contemporary art

By CHRIS MOSS

chris.moss@hertsexnews.co.uk

A TEAM of local artists are hoping to build on Harlow's growing reputation as a hotbed of artistic creativity by staging an ambitious arts and music extravaganza in the town centre.

Following hot on the heels of the Summertime Sheep Trail and the opening of new gallery Gatehouse Arts, the Pieces Of A Dream Arts Trail features works by 14 local artists displayed in independent shops across the town centre.

The exhibition opened earlier this week and features a vibrant mix of contemporary art including textile prints, photography, painting, and illustrations.

The two-week event will be capped off with a free gig featuring five local bands at a makeshift studio-cum-live music venue in the Harvey Centre on Saturday, October 16.

Organiser Hung Voong said the trail represented a unique opportunity for members of the public to engage with local artists and learn more about the creative process.

"I came up with the idea for the trail after seeing something similar become a big success in Salisbury," he said. "I realised that an arts trail in Harlow would be an ideal way to show local residents some of the fantastic work that is being produced by local artists while encouraging them to experience something a little bit different."

The Quit charity shop in Broad Walk, YMCA Vintage in Little Walk, Munchies Cakes in the Harvey Centre and Harlow Piercings Studios and Body Jewellers in East Gate are among 12 stores across the town centre involved with the project.

"I wanted to involve independent shops in the project as I felt they were all places offering something unique and interesting, perfectly complementing the diverse work on display," said Hung.

"Harlow has such a vibrant arts scene. Hopefully this project will help highlight the fact that the town really is a hotbed of creativity."

>>FRIDAY Fire and brimstone punk 'n' rollers The Jim Jones Revue, above, will be burnin' the house down as they hotwire the carcass of golden age rock 'n' roll and drag-race it into the 21st century. The Brit quintet have enjoyed huge critical acclaim since the release of their second album, Burning Your House Down, earlier this year - but you ain't seen nothing until you catch them live and loud. Support comes from spit 'n' sawdust Harlow punks The Seminals. Doors open at 8pm and tickets cost £10 in advance.

>>SATURDAY Skank to some deep down and dirty dub-reggae courtesy of The Skints, with support from hardcore ska-punks Anti Vigilantes and the tongue-in-cheek antics of Hertfordshire ska-punk collective Small Town Fiasco. Doors open at 8pm and tickets cost £5 in advance

Am-dram group pulls off show coup

A MADCAP tale of spies, subterfuge and scarlet women will dazzle and delight audiences at Old Harlow's Victoria Hall Theatre.

In a real coup for Harlow Theatre Company, the am-dram group has secured the rights to put on a production of Patrick Barlow's farce The 39 Steps.

Loosely based on novelist John Buchan's eponymous spy shocker, the play features a cast of just four actors playing multiple roles and has been one of the most popular shows in the West End since its debut at the Criterion in 2006.

The story follows the unlikely exploits of daredevil adventurer and would-be spy Richard Hannay, who unwittingly becomes embroiled in a dastardly plot to steal vital British military secrets and finds himself on the run for a murder he did not commit.

HTC member Jane Prangnell said: "This is a real coup for us as we are one of the first amateur companies to get the rights to perform this fabulous show before the current West End production goes on a nationwide tour.

"It's an astonishing theatrical tour-de-force, with just four actors playing a minimum of 139 roles. You really have to see it to believe it!"

The 39 Steps runs at the Victoria Hall Theatre, in Bury Road, until Saturday.

Performances begin at 8pm and tickets cost £8 (£6 concessions) from (01279) 420062.

FACING UP TO IT:
Michael Douglas and Shia LaBeouf go eyeball to eyeball in WALL STREET: MONEY NEVER SLEEPS

Douglas back as Gekko in Wall Street reshuffle

new this week

WALL STREET: MONEY NEVER SLEEPS
certificate 12A 2h12m

IT'S more than 20 years since Michael Douglas won an Oscar as scheming Wall Street trader Gordon Gekko in Oliver Stone's acclaimed film.

As the global recession continues to bite, much of the blame is now laid at the revolving doors of avaricious bankers who took big risks and somehow enjoyed massive bonuses for their spectacular failure.

Against this backdrop of mismanagement, writer-director Stone returns to the hallowed halls of New York's financial district where banks go cap in hand to the US government for bail-outs to strengthen the system's crumbling foundations.

The film opens in 2008 with Gekko (Douglas) being released from prison with his effects which include a gold money clip and a hefty, brick-like mobile phone. He emerges into a world that is firmly controlled by the financial community and teetering on the brink of ruin.

Before long Gekko finds new success with a best-selling book and tour. In the audience at one of his appearances is ambitious trader Jake Moore (Shia LaBeouf), who is the boyfriend of Gekko's estranged daughter Winnie (Carey Mulligan).

Moore is inspired by Gekko's words but knows that making contact would jeopardise his relationship with the woman of his dreams.

When Jake's mentor Louis Zabel (Frank Langella) commits suicide after his beloved company is taken over by vicious rival Bretton James (Josh Brolin), the young man swears revenge and enlists the help of Gekko to destroy Bretton and the people he works for.

Wall Street: Money Never Sleeps bares its teeth at the banking community but ultimately doesn't draw blood, using the current recession as a hook for a retreat of the original film with some tearful father-daughter bonding thrown in for good measure.

Aside from a brief cameo from Charlie Sheen as Bud Fox, Gekko is the only returning character for the sequel. Douglas clearly relishes the chance to slip back into the designer threads of his signature role.

LaBeouf and Mulligan are well matched and both cry convincingly as they struggle to keep their relationship afloat in a sea of lies and betrayal.

THE DEATH AND LIFE OF CHARLIE ST. CLOUD
certificate 12A 1h39m

Charlie St. Cloud (Zac Efron) can see the spirit of his younger brother Sam (Charlie Tahan) who died in his arms following a car accident. Consumed with grief, Charlie puts his entire life on hold to remain in limbo with the spirit and agrees to meet him at sunset every day to play baseball.

Five years pass and Charlie works in the local cemetery with best friend

Alistair (Augustus Prew). Charlie develops a crush on Tess Carroll (Amanda Crew), who intends to sail around the world. As his feelings deepen, Charlie must make a heartbreaking choice between the living and the dead.

LIFE AS WE KNOW IT
certificate 12A 1h54m

Holly Berenson (Katherine Heigl) is the culinary genius behind a burgeoning catering business with plans to expand her cafe outlet to cope with demand.

Eric Messer (Josh Duhamel) is a fast-rising director for a sports television channel.

While Holly and Eric might not like each other very much, they put their differences to one side to play doting godparents to Sophie, the baby daughter of their mutual best friends Peter (Hayes MacArthur) and Alison (Christina Hendricks).

Then, out of the blue, Peter and Alison are killed and in their will the couple name their best friends as legal guardians of Sophie.

Holly and Eric are horrified but faced with the choice of putting the baby girl into care, the sworn enemies agree to move into Peter and Alison's home to become surrogate parents.

>>>BURIED Truck driver Paul Conroy (Ryan Reynolds) is attacked during a convoy run in Iraq and wakes inside a crudely constructed coffin. With no obvious way out, Paul discovers a mobile phone with a weak signal and hurriedly calls for help. As anxiety takes hold in the cramped confines of his prison, Paul discovers that terrorists have placed him in the box and want a $5m ransom.

>>>MADE IN DAGENHAM Mum-of-two Rita O'Grady (Sally Hawkins), who works at the Ford car manufacturing plant in Dagenham, risks her marriage to plant worker Eddie (Daniel Mays) by persuading the workforce to go on strike in a row over sex discrimination.

>>>THE HOLE (3D) Susan Thompson (Teri Polo) is forced to uproot her family to a new, secluded neighbourhood. One day while playing in the basement her sons, Dane (Chris Massoglia) and Lucas (Nathan Gamble) discover a trapdoor secured with several padlocks. Foolishly, they decide to remove the locks and open the trapdoor to reveal a seemingly bottomless pit.

>>>THE OTHER GUYS Detectives PK Highsmith (Samuel L. Jackson) and Christopher Danson (Dwayne Johnson) are the golden boys of the NYPD, monopolising newspaper headlines with their gung-ho antics. When the two officers are sidelined, hot-headed Terry Hoitz (Mark Wahlberg) and his mild-mannered partner Allen Gamble (Will Ferrell) vie with rival detectives Fosse (Damon Wayans Jr) and Martin (Rob Riggle) to lead the team.

>>>BACK TO THE FUTURE Marty McFly's unforgettable time travel adventure returns to the big screen in a 25th anniversary reissue.

>>>TOY STORY 3 (3D) The toys are mistakenly delivered to a day care centre instead of the attic right before Andy leaves for college and it's up to Woody to convince the other toys that they weren't abandoned and to return home.

>>>TINKER BELL AND THE GREAT FAIRY RESCUE During the fairies' summer visit to the flowering meadows of England, Tinker Bell develops a special bond with a curious child in need of a friend, taking a huge risk that puts her own safety and the future of all fairykind in jeopardy.

>>>bollywood

>>>DABANGG Chulbul Pandey (Salman Khan) is a totally fearless but corrupt police officer with unorthodox working methods. He can't stand his stepbrother Malkhi (Arbaaz Khan) and detests the dubious Cheedi Singh (Sonu Sood). But when Cheedi tries to put Malkhi against Chulbul for his personal gains, the brothers unite to fight back.

A very valuable nugget of information can come to the surface. You may even find yourself digging into your own past. Someone can also play a very important role by advising you behind the scenes. Spiritual considerations can take on more importance. Pleasantly, any tensions that have existed with one person can be worked out - if you hear one another out. Call now for your in-depth forecast...

Libra Sept 24-Oct 23
If something seems very uphill in your world, be assured Libra, it is because at the top of that hill is a prize which is really worth battling for. This may see you needing to prioritise, and you may also need to make sacrifices to get to where you want to be. Yet that doesn't mean that there can't be compensations because there can be. Indeed, an offer can delight. Call for your in-depth forecast...

Taurus Apr 21-May 21
This month begins where last month left off, with Venus and Mars bringing great energy and charisma to your relating skills. And this week's Quarter Moon suggests that this can only be a good thing, because niggles can creep in, perhaps because of busy schedules and life stresses. And yet where there is a will, there's a way and someone can be very receptive towards you. Call for more...

Scorpio Oct 24-Nov 22
Mercury bursts into a tender part of your 'scope so even if you feel that you're on a roll - particularly with two stunning celestial clusters at play, keep an eye on the sub-plot. Information can come out that you may prefer didn't. This may be because someone is jealous of the success and attention that you get. However, in a strange way, see it as a compliment. Call your prediction line for more news...

Gemini May 22-Jun 21
As Mercury enters your sector of fun, your mind can quicken and you can feel livelier too. Yet Pluto will square this position and your desire to follow a more sociable path might not sit well with a partner or a jealous friend. Yet there is much to be said for accepting people as they are just now. We all have faults, so try to see the bigger picture around any such niggles. Call for more astral advice...

Sagittarius Nov 23-Dec 21
Has one friendship run its course? Someone you thought was fab but that long ago, may start to seem far less so. Perhaps this is about your expectations, or are you now taking your associates more seriously? It is possible. You can also start to do a double take about your future. This can see you with some options, but better to have some, than none at all. Call for more news and advice...

Cancer Jun 22-Jul 23
This week sees the Sun combine with the stubborn Saturn. This can be challenging and someone close to you may need extra help, but it can also be an opportunity to firm up the foundations of your existence. Yet the rub is that another influence is urging you to break out. All this can see you considering your overall life. Some big decisions may come from this. Call me for more advice...

Capricorn Dec 22-Jan 20
Keep going with the diplomacy Capricorn. One professional relationship may have seemed to have reached a make or break point, but it can be surprising how a way can be found - if the lines of communication are kept open. Rather than being threatened by you, people can see that you can be an asset. Respect is more important than popularity in this scenario. Call for more news and advice...

Leo Jul 24-Aug 23
Think of how you link to people. Whether this is those folks around you or people far away, any weaknesses in how you interact can be revealed. Yet this can also be a time when you firm up things like this, perhaps by learning about or using technology or by working harder at understanding inter-relations. Just don't expect everybody to accept what you say at face value. Call for more...

Aquarius Jan 21-Feb 19
Solid plans can take shape, but care is needed around documentation. Any flaws that don't show up straight away can leave a legacy further down the line, so be cautious about details. On the upside, if you are serious about doing higher education or learning a new language, it may be tough to begin with but upping your knowledge will give you incredible satisfaction. Call for more astral advice...

Virgo Aug 24-Sept 23
Some tough decisions are being made about Public Finances the world over and you may have to make some yourself. But, as you get to this, the more it can concentrate your mind on what's REALLY important. And this may be less to do with possessions. In fact, in some ways you can find yourself enjoying simplifying your world. Romantically, schemes that will in time, fifty possibilities beckon. Call for more...

Pisces Feb 20-Mar 20
Any involvement with business ventures, investments or being a guarantor, may have some liabilities attached to them. So think carefully before pledging your support. You can be kind to a fault, but should protect your interests. However, if you have worked really hard, these areas can also give you a return now or you can put in place now your schemes that will in time, fifty possibilities beckon. Call for your in-depth forecast...

Home of the week

LOCATION: Linford End, Harlow

CATEGORY: Three bedroom semi-detached

ADDITIONAL: Extended kitchen/dining room, en suite to master bedroom, large secluded rear garden

PRICE: £305,000

AGENT: Centurion Properties, Equity House, 4-6 Market Street, Old Harlow. Telephone (01279) 417234

Three-bed extended semi with secluded rear garden

THIS immaculate three-bedroom semi in Harlow has been extended and benefits from a secluded 100ft west-facing garden.

Accommodation comprises an entrance hall, lounge (16'5 x 11'2) with wooden flooring and feature fireplace with coal effect gas fire, and bathroom with panelled bath and shower attachment, vanity wash hand basin and WC.

The extended kitchen/dining room (22'10 x 17'6 narrowing to 10'6 in the dining area) features an extensive range of wall and base units with integrated dishwasher and fridge freeze, granite work tops with central hub/breakfast bar, double oven recess and plumbing for a washing machine.

The master bedroom (16'5 x 8'6 narrowing to 5'8 at one end) benefits from an en suite shower room with tiled shower cubicle, low flush WC and pedestal wash hand basin.

There are a further two bedrooms (8' x 11'5 with double wardrobe and 8'3 x 8'2).

The rear garden is divided into three private sections by mature hedges, trees and plants. There is a patio area and lawn and, at the far end, a workshop (9' x 9').

To the front of the property there is an area of block paving which provides plenty of space for off-road parking.

MORTGAGE MARKET REVIEW

Its still not a great deal of fun trying to obtain a mortgage these days, and even less so if you are a first time buyer, lenders want a chunky deposit, ideally 25%, but they will lend to you if you have 10% but the rate is often double or treble.

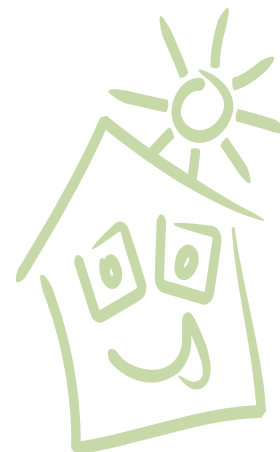

In addition to the deposit, lenders also want a squeaky clean credit profile, late or missed payments, no matter how minor or trivial the surrounding circumstances, can result in a declined application. And as for defaults and CCJ's there are few if any lending options currently available.

However against this backdrop of negative aspects there are some very good options if you meet the criteria, rates are expected to remain broadly the same for the next 12 months and possibly rise in 2012, much dependent upon the strength of any economic recovery. We have some exclusive deals with ING Direct which are market leading - CALL FOR MORE DETAILS

Magnificent Micra keeps on going

By Matt Joy

IT may not appear so at first glance, but the Nissan Micra is something of an automotive dynasty.

Unlike most Japanese cars, the Micra in all its previous guises had proper longevity. The first and second generation stuck around for a decade apiece while the outgoing one is still selling well in its seventh year. It can also stake a claim for being one of the most driven cars on the planet as its total user-friendliness made it a popular driving school steed. Most crucially for a private buyer, it also came with the promise of bulletproof reliability. So the new one has quite a reputation to live up to. It's as neatly styled as ever, of course, although less radical than before and shares the non-threatening look that many drivers find appealing. Compared to the rest of the supermini crowd, the Micra stands out by virtue of its simplicity.

You can count on the same approach on the inside, too. Uncomplicated is the best way of summing it up, although that's not a euphemism for a lack of equipment. Slide behind the wheel and it won't take

FACTfile

Nissan Micra 1.2 Tekna

from £12,095

Engine: 1.2-litre petrol unit producing 79bhp
Transmission: 5-speed manual driving the front wheels
Performance: Maximum speed 106mph, 0-62mph 13.7 seconds
Economy: 56.5mpg (combined)
CO₂ Rating: 115g/km

more than 30 seconds to locate all the switches and controls. However, this approach doesn't make it dull to look at. The heating and ventilation controls are grouped in a circular manner in the centre of the dashboard while the chunky steering wheel and clear instruments show some flair.

Unlike some rivals, the Micra can also be specified with a different trim colour, and in this guise the dash of contrast brightens up the view. Nissan has gone heavy with the technology, even if the Micra doesn't shout about it. Just like the old car it can be specified with keyless entry and start, still a rarity in this class.

There's also a parking guidance system which will check the spaces between cars parked at the side of the road and tell you whether the car will fit or not – useful for those moments of indecisiveness.

Every model comes with ESP which is an option costing several hundreds on many rivals but is worth ten times as much when it does its job. It's clever where you can't see it, too, with a new platform that contributes significantly to the Micra being lighter than its predecessor despite better crash performance. Simple ideas like the boomerang shape in the roof add strength and refinement but without a weight penalty. It's this kind of thinking that bodes well.

Fire up the Micra and the first thing you notice is the distinctive thrum of the new engine. The 1.2-litre petrol unit has three rather than four cylinders. Fewer cylinders means less weight and a keenness to rev, both of which help in a city car. But despite the size it has 79bhp and a thrifty 115g/km.

Next year there will be a supercharged version with almost 100bhp but with even better emission and economy figures, hence Nissan's decision that a diesel version isn't required.

Once you get your head around that it's hard not to agree. Even this lower-output 1.2 is more than enough to pull the Micra along easily, whether mated to the five-speed manual or the new CVT transmission.

It's brisk enough and, as you'd expect, a cinch to drive, with the kind of accuracy and good-weighting that has become something of a Japanese trademark.

Refinement is right up there, too, with the suspension being tuned to deal with urban scars rather than hairpin turns – and rightly so. It can handle the bends but in truth almost all buyers will spend their time on tougher streets.

There's good space in the Micra, with tweaks to the body shape designed to increase rear headroom while the simple dashboard design leaves more room for legs. The boot is respectable considering the compact exterior, but dropping the seats brings not only tons of space but a flat floor too.

Understandably Nissan has stuck with a successful recipe: the latest Micra is a very honest car and doesn't pretend to be something it's not.

But the quality of the engineering underneath makes it a quality car to own and the supercharged version coming next year might just be the car that leaves its supermini rivals way behind.

Deal available to private individuals only for orders between 01.10.10 and 30.11.10. Deals may not apply to all retailer stock and are subject to availability, correct at time of going to press. UK supplied vehicles only. Figures shown are based on a non-maintenance contract hire package for the bailment of goods over 36 months, assuming a maximum of 6,000 miles per annum. All rentals are quoted inclusive of VAT. An advance rental of £597 inc. VAT is payable, followed by 35 regular monthly rentals of £199 inc. VAT. The quotation is subject to there being no changes in VAT or manufacturer list price. An excess mileage charge applies if the annual contract mileage is exceeded (4.4p per mile up to 6,000 miles and 6.38p per mile above 6,000 miles and above). The quotation is given subject to the vehicle being serviced and maintained in accordance with manufacturer guidelines and the vehicle must be returned to Vauxhall Leasing in a condition commensurate with the BVRLA Fair Wear & Tear guidelines for its age and mileage. Charges will be applied should these conditions not be met. All quotations are subject to availability, status, acceptance and agreement and guarantees may be required. Package includes Road Fund Licence and Vauxhall Assistance. Contract hire provided by ALD Automotive Ltd., trading as Vauxhall Leasing, Oakwood Park, Lodge Causeway, Fishponds, Bristol BS16 3JA. Contract hire is subject to status, availability and conditions. A guarantee and/or indemnity may be required. Applicants must be 18 or over. Full terms and conditions are available upon request. Vauxhall Lifetime Warranty covers lifetime ownership of first registered keeper, 100,000 mile limit. Terms and conditions apply. (Vaux101603)

Scrap

End of the road
for your vehicle?

Responsible drivers scrap their vehicles at an Authorised Treatment Facility (ATF).

Because only an ATF can legally scrap a vehicle.
That means any pollutants will be made safe before it's recycled in an environmentally friendly way.

What's more, for certain types of vehicle you'll get a DVLA approved Certificate of Destruction (CoD).
A CoD proves that the ATF has told DVLA your vehicle has been scrapped and so is no longer
your responsibility. www.direct.gov.uk/motoring

Lift-off for super Hawks

Harlow Hawks 85, Aylesbury Dux 49

Herts County Basketball League, division one

A NEW-LOOK Harlow Hawks outfit marked the first league game of their season – and a brand new venue – with a comprehensive victory over newly-promoted Aylesbury Dux.

Hawks moved into leisure-zone in the summer and fielded three new players in Ayo Oyerinde, pictured right scoring a basket, and brothers Simon and Luke Atkinson on Friday.

The hosts' early scores came from two jump shots by Nick Moss in quick succession but they found it hard to gain fluency.

Dave Spashett's experience kept the scoreboard ticking over as he bagged seven points.

This gave the Hawks a 19-9 lead going into the second period.

Aylesbury started this well but towards the end of it they went scoreless for six minutes.

Hawks, who had earlier scored through Oyerinde and two back-to-back three-pointers from sharp shooting player-coach Shab Niaz, increased their lead and were 41-22 ahead at the halfway stage.

In the third quarter, the hosts were outscored by Dux 15-10 and their lead was cut to 12 points (51-39).

Luke Atkinson and Mark Haddow worked hard for their baskets. But Dux had the better of the quarter as they out-scored the Hawks 15-10 in this period.

Hawks responded to their coach's instructions to increase the pace in the fourth quarter which they won 34-10.

Moss upped the tempo and Luke Atkinson benefited with six early points.

Russ Allan hit three base-line jumpers, while Simon Atkinson used his size inside to complete a three-point score.

Coach Niaz said: "I am happy with the new guys and we have a good balance to our team."

"It will just take a few games to gel and hopefully then we will start producing even better basketball."

Hawks will face a sterner test tomorrow when they face Enfield Merics, the team that finished directly above them last term to clinch the runner-up slot in division one.

HARLOW HAWKS: L. Atkinson (21pts), Spashett (14), Moss (11), Allan (9), S. Niaz (8), Haddow (8), Z. Niaz (7), S. Atkinson (5), Oyerinde (2), Norkeliunas.

New boys find it tough in higher league

NEWLY-promoted Harlow Rugby Club's Under-15 side found it hard to hit their stride as they lost 17-5 at Thurrock in division two of the Essex League.

Thurrock were a well-drilled outfit and Harlow found it hard going.

The visitors suffered from bad discipline and never managed to get their rhythm going.

Thurrock scored two tries in the first half, one of which was converted to put them 12-0 up at the break.

Scott Whitty scored an unconverted try for Harlow early in the second half but the home side responded with a third try to clinch the points.

HARLOW U-15s (squad): Smythe, Hoy, Freeman, Hatcher-Staines, Dhamini, Bleach, Burns, Clark, Shipp (c), Westgarth, Davis, Sinfield, Coubrough, Whitty, Jones, Stallman, Abrahaley, Bilton,

Youth rugby

Barton, Humphreys, Holdeen.

HARLOW COLTS lost 25-3 to their Southend counterparts in a friendly.

Brave home defending kept Southend out for 15 minutes before the visitors scored two unconverted tries to go 10-0 up at the break.

Dave Briggenshaw slotted an early second-half penalty but Southend responded with two tries, a conversion and a penalty.

HARLOW U-16s defeated Cheshunt 26-0 in a home friendly.

The hosts were given a good forwards platform. Home pressure resulted in centre Kurtis Knightley scoring a try under the posts, converted by Matt Norris.

Lewis Brown scored Harlow's second try as backs move and the Rams led 12-0 at half-time.

Second-half tries came from forwards Dominic Lane and Tom Bircham.

Norris kicked both conversions.

Full-back Jack Almond pulled off some great try-saving tackles but could not stop HARLOW U-14s from losing 40-0 in a friendly at Rochford.

● HARLOW Rugby Club's ladies team start their National League South East division two programme at Tabard this Sunday.

The Rams lost 5-0 at home in a friendly to Romford Ravens, who play a division above Harlow.

The game's sole try came 10 minutes after half-time on Sunday.

Sierra Leone internationals on trial at HTFC

TWO Sierra Leone internationals will spend three weeks on trial at Harlow Town FC as they make their bid to impress and earn a contract at a professional club.

Salifu Samura (21) and Dauda Kanu were set to make their Hawks debuts in a reserve match against Cheshunt last night (Wednesday).

Their arrival in this country is part of West African Relief, a charity which helps young people from the poor nation which was ripped apart by civil war in 1991.

The players have 35 international caps between them.

They arrived in England on September 29 and have already sorted out visas and work permits, so if they are a success they can stay in this country.

The duo play for two of the top teams in Sierra Leone.

One is a right-back and one is a forward.

Salifu plays for East End Lions, while Duada is at FC Kalon.

"They trained very well on Monday and they look fit," said

Hawks boss Kevin Warren. "It's too early to say what will happen."

If they are a hit, they could feature in Saturday's Ryman League home match against Wingate & Finchley.

A spokeswoman for the project said: "They will play and train at Harlow and try and pick up a club while over here."

Let's get back on track

BACK ON TRACK:
Hawks boss Kevin Warren with assistant Danny Chapman

Hawks boss aims to return to winning ways

KEVIN Warren wants his side to bounce straight back to winning ways as they challenge for promotion in Ryman League division one north.

Harlow Town, who suffered a disappointing FA Cup exit at Lewes 12 days ago, are currently 7th and just three points behind second-placed Enfield Town as the Hawks approach their home game against mid-table Wingate & Finchley this Saturday.

"We are in a good position. We have played most of the stronger sides," Warren said.

"The players have been excellent so far. Their attitude has been spot on."

The Harlow Town boss has identified East Thurrock United and Needham Market as sides that are strong candidates for promotion.

"East Thurrock and Needham Market will be there or thereabouts. When we played Needham Market [a 2-1 defeat], we were the better team over 90 minutes," said Warren.

"East Thurrock have four or five players who deserve to be playing in a higher league. Needham have two or three very good players and they have a lot of experience."

But the Hawks boss expects plenty of surprises in a tight division in which up to 10 sides could battle it out for a play-off spot.

"There will be a lot of teams beating each other. It's going to be close," he said.

Warren said Harlow's good start to this campaign – in complete contrast to last season's disastrous season – had got more players interested in joining the Barrows Farm outfit.

"Myself, Danny Chapman [assistant] and Christian Wheeler [player-coach] have been on the phone working the contacts," he said.

"To attract players was always going to be difficult after last season. Some people have believed our words, some have said wait and see."

He added: "People have seen a good start and people want to come and join us. It's key to have competition for places and people earning their shirt."

"If we can improve the team we will do so."

Warren will give a debut to new signing, left-back Sacha Opinel against Wingate & Finchley.

Keeper James Hasell returns from his honeymoon but will do well to dislodge Rhys Madden, who has impressed between the sticks in his absence.

Midfielder Andy Porter should also return after more than eight weeks out with a dislocated shoulder.

Full-back Mark Taylor (thigh) is about a week away from returning.

Semi spot beckons for Jo

JOANNE Harten was part of the England netball team which went into their crucial group match against New Zealand in the Commonwealth Games this morning (Thursday) in good shape.

New Zealand are one of the favourites to lift the netball gold in India.

By the time these words are read it will be known how the goal shooter has done against the Kiwis (starting at Sam GMT).

Games against the Cook Islands and Papua New Guinea on Friday and Sunday respectively will complete England's group campaign.

Harten and her team-mates should at least book a spot in the semi-finals.

Harten, who attended St Mark's School, came on for the second part of England's 54-36 win against South Africa on Tuesday.

This followed her prominent role in the opening 81-20 group victory against

TOP FORM: Joanne Harten (S)

Barbados on Monday.

A new-look England started strongly and a steady attack enabled Harten to easily sink the first shots of the game.

An 88 per cent shooting average in the first 10 minutes of the quarter from Pamela Cookey and Harten enabled England to pull ahead, while Barbados struggled to get their shots in.

England led 24-5 at the end of the first quarter and continued with the fast tempo throughout the second quarter as Cookey and Harten linked up superbly in the circle to increase their lead to 42-12 at half-time.

There was a much changed England side for the third period as coach Maggie Jackson was keen to look at different combinations and introduced as many players as possible to the competition.

An unsettled start to the quarter saw the first errors from England in the attacking third.

But continued pressure from Tamsin Greenway and Louisa Brownfield ensured the ball was overturned with increasing regularity.

Brownfield and Cookey soon found their rhythm, sinking shots from all areas of the circle.

Barbados managed to score only two goals in the quarter, compared to England's 23 and Harten's side dominated throughout, winning by 61 points.

Track fears ahead of Games debut

HARLOW'S 800m runner Andrew Osagie faced an anxious wait to see if he would compete at his first ever Commonwealth Games.

The track at the newly-constructed multi-million pound arena, had repairs carried out on it on Tuesday – after holes in the 'hi-tech' surface appeared.

The first running events started yesterday (Wednesday) with Great Britain's Mark Lewis-Francis in action.

The Harlow Athletic Club member was also set to run in an 800m heat.

There has also been problems with the field at the athletics complex and new turf was laid on Tuesday.

Osagie, above, of Northbrooks, ran the qualifying time when he clocked 1min 47.15 seconds in the summer.

But he faces stiff competition in Delhi as he will be up against the World Record Holder, Kenyan David Rudisha.

line and set up a rolling maul from which Richard Dennis scored a try converted by Lee Thorne.

Canvey forward Andy Hawes was sin-binned late in the first half for not retreating 10 metres at a Harlow penalty.

But the Rams did not take advantage of the extra man.

Just before the break, Thorne kicked a penalty to put the visitors 10-0 up.

Canvey attacked strongly after the break. After they got back to a full complement, Thorne chipped a delicate kick over the Harlow defence and then picked it up for an unconverted try.

Canvey's third try was scored through a rolling maul with Tommi Gillingwater touching down. Thorne converted for a 22-0 lead.

Shortly after, Matt Lay offloaded for Jack Gillingwater to score a try Thorne converted.

The scoring was rounded off when line-out possession for Canvey led to a backs move and Tom Saunders scored a try which Thorne converted. Harlow are 11th in the 12-team table.

Murtagh shines in GB Masters Champs

Running

STEVE Murtagh secured a brilliant top 10 spot at the British Masters Championships.

At the Oldbury (near Bristol) 10-Mile race, Harlow Running Club member Murtagh was 10th and fourth veteran 45 in a personal best time for the distance of 58 minutes and 14 seconds. This was just eight seconds outside the HRC Vet 45 record.

At the Southend 10K, first Harlow finisher was John Tennant in 113th place out of 1,460 runners in a superb 40:48, which was good enough to win the Vet 60 trophy.

Dan Chapman finished in a personal best (PB) time for the distance of 42:36, just ahead of David Croly in 42:48.

At the Manuden 10K, first Harlow finisher was Jamie Jephcott in a superb 6th place out of 215 runners in 39:51.

He was followed home by Steve MacKenzie in 40:59 and Jon Steadman in 44:47.

First Harlow woman to finish was Dionne Jones in a creditable 47:57.

Other HRC results: Pasquale Pellicchia 45:56; Matthew Jones 46:34; Sean Flynn 47:20; Martin McColgan 51:06; Ron Newton 52:28; Linda Selby 54:33; Karen Moir 55:44.

Reading Parkrun 5K - David Ayling 22:18; Katie Herrington 22:27.

Mixed fortunes for teams

Brentwood II 3, Harlow 0

East Men's Hockey League, division four south east

IT was an improved display compared to their opening match but Harlow still slipped to defeat at Brentwood II on Saturday.

The hosts broke the deadlock through a penalty corner on the verge of half-time.

Harlow, who had lost 7-0 to Witham II a week before, exerted early second-half pressure during which Stuart Kirk missed their best chance.

Brentwood settled the match with two goals from open play midway through the second period.

The visitors were unable to score and have now drawn a blank in their opening two league matches.

Harlow captain Kyle Plumridge said: "Our performance was better than against Witham and our defence was good.

"Sometimes we were over-run. We did not have much possession and did not create many chances. The support in attack was not good and we need to work on this."

HARLOW: Johnson, Castle, Plumridge, Munro, Grace, Symonds, Smith, Krzoska, Kirk, Chandler, Knight.

Basildon 0, Harlow 2

Essex Women's Hockey League, premier division

TWO goals from captain Emma Tweddle were enough for Harlow get their first win of the campaign.

Despite good performances, Harlow had only picked up one point from their opening two games so a win was vital to push on in the premier division.

Harlow took the lead on 10 minutes from a penalty corner. Sonya Amos and Tweddle linked well as the captain pushed home.

Basildon were lucky not to have been carded when Charlotte Byers was deliberately fouled on route to goal, but Harlow doubled their lead just five minutes later.

Tweddle fired home her second from another penalty corner.

Basildon went close with a penalty corner which beat keeper Linda Rowley but was cleared by Jo Chambers, making her second key goal-line clearance in successive weeks.

Tweddle went close to claiming her hat-trick before the final whistle. HARLOW: Rowley, Shearman, Hansson, Chambers, Douglas, Tweddle, Figg, Esterhuysen, Amos, Byers, Spencer.

'The end of hockey in Harlow?'

THE future of Harlow Hockey Club is under threat as it has to move from its base at Passmores School at the end of the current season.

Passmores School is switching from Tendring Road at the end of the academic year to the old Brays Grove School site in Tracys Road. Building work is due to be completed in July.

But Harlow Hockey Club has been informed it will no longer be able to play at the old venue, which has three AstroTurf pitches, largely paid for by funds raised by the hockey club!

They have played at Passmores since 2001 when the AstroTurf facility was opened and before that Harlow held home matches at Bishop's Stortford College in Hertfordshire for five years.

Tweddle told the Star: "We have been told that we are leaving. They [Passmores] will have no control. If we could, we would stay in Harlow."

It leaves a club, which has two men's teams in the East Hockey League and two women's teams in the Essex Hockey League, looking for a new base.

The club hope this is in Harlow. Mark Hall's AstroTurf facility is unsuitable for hockey.

Tweddle explained: "It's 3G material [a sports surface with sand and rubber] and is not suitable. The league would not let us play on it. It is physically impossible. The ball would not run smoothly."

Tweddle said that Harlow had approached Broxbourne Hockey Club about using its facilities but it is fully booked up.

She added: "We are waiting for an answer from Leventhorpe School in Sawbridgeworth. We are looking at Bishop's Stortford College, as well as Roding Valley High School in Loughton or Redbridge Sports Centre."

Tweddle is worried by the long-term effect a move out of the town would have for hockey in Harlow.

"I think the established players will move with the club and we would attract players near to where we move but it would not be good for young people in Harlow," she said.

"It would be the end of hockey in Harlow. That is a travesty for a town of this size."

Men's captain Kyle Plumridge added: "If we cannot find an alternative place in Harlow it could spell the end for the club."

"We have a lot of youngsters who walk here to play. They make up the majority of the second team. And if people cannot get to where you train or play they can tend to give up altogether."

Jasmine blooms in autumn swim gala

MEDALS galore were achieved by Harlow Penguin swimmers at the Bishop's Stortford autumn gala.

Jasmine Hind (13) was rewarded for an excellent performance with an Essex qualifying time and 6th place in the 50m freestyle. She clocked 31.65 seconds.

JASMINE HIND (s)

She also placed 6th in the 100m individual medley (IM) in 1 minute 22.37s and was 6th in the 200m freestyle (2:35.01), 9th in the 100m backstroke (1:24.26) and 5th in the 200m IM.

Georgia Andrew (14) was 4th in the 100m breaststroke (1:32.11) and 6th in the 200m freestyle (2:39.20).

Luke Guerrati (13) was 4th in the 50m breaststroke (42.65), 4th in the 200m freestyle (2:37.63), 5th in the 100m freestyle (1:10.89) and 2nd in the 50m butterfly (34.52).

Mason Arnold (12) won the 100m backstroke final in 1:20.94. He was 2nd in the 200m freestyle (2:41.60) and 3rd in the 100m freestyle (1:11.84).

Bradley Veitch (11) was 3rd in the 50m breaststroke (44.93s) and 5th in the 200m freestyle (2:46.14).

Celeste Andrew (9) was 8th in the 50m backstroke (50.48s).

All these times were personal best times for the Penguins swimmers.

Amy Sears (15), Emily Poolman (10), Danny Chan (15) also achieved superb personal best times.

Danny swam two PBs, Amy recorded one and Emily performed brilliantly to claim four PBs in her races.

Amelia at the front for Southend second

BURNT Mill School student Amelia Barrett secured a trophy for second place in a series of races at Southend.

Seven Harlow school children took part in the event held in mild conditions, albeit very windy along the seafront. In the Young Athletes (Under 15s) race for girls, 14-year-old Amelia was second from 45 starters.

She completed the flat 2.5km circuit in 9 minutes and 30 seconds, 42 seconds faster than the time she recorded for this distance last year, and just 7 seconds behind the winner Jodie Judd from Chelmsford.

Isobel Moss (14), a Passmores School student, performed well and placed 6th in 9:53.

Just one place behind her was Alicia McDell (13), a Mark Hall School pupil. Recovering from a viral infection she clocked 9:54.

Alicia's school-mate Sky Mulvey (12) was 8th in 9:55.

Year 7 student Jodi Ratcliff (11), of Mark Hall, was 15th in 10:34.

Rosie Poole (11), of Stewards School, was 16th in 10:51.

In the boys race over the same distance, 13-year-old Perry Rowan, of Burnt Mill School, ran well to place third.

He was just 12 seconds behind Essex Schools champion Josh Mann.

Sam Bengie (17), a St Mark's School student, competed in his first race over a gruelling 10km.

Representing Harlow Athletic Club, he placed a great 68th out of 1,500 starters in 38:29.

Great start for Green

DAMIEN Green enjoyed a 110 shootout as Servo Link kicked off the Harlow & District Premier Darts League season with an 8-0 demolition of hosts Golden Swift.

Dan Wood struck a 180 as newly-named Two Pound-a-Pint (The Gate PH) drew 4-4 with Stow Snooker Club.

Other results:- White Admiral 6, Staple Tye Colts 2; Colt Hatch SC 3, Tye Green Foxes 5 (Paul Greedy, Foxes 108 shootout); Small Copper 2, Moot House 6; Tye Green Whites 8, Crusader 0.

Silver bullets!

Huckle's medal bonanza at Commonwealth Games

JAMES Huckle combined with England colleague Kenny Parr to shoot down a silver medal in the 10m air rifle pairs in Delhi on Tuesday.

Gold went to Indian favourites, Olympic champion Abhinav Bindra and world champion Gagan Narang at the Dr Karni Singh Shooting Range.

But Huckle, from Old Harlow, and Parr were delighted to claim their silver.

"That was hard," said Huckle, just 19 years old, who won three golds at the Commonwealth Youth Games in Pune two years ago. "Against those two, silver was the best we could do. We're really happy."

Parr (22) added: "We are very pleased with our performance." The competition for silver was tough enough, as the Bangladeshi pair finished just one point adrift of Huckle and Parr on 1,173 points on a day when India's first gold-medal winners set a Games record of 1,193.

Huckle followed this up with his second medal of the Games in Delhi.

He gained bronze in the men's 10m air rifle individual event.

He will also compete in the 50m three P event (prone, standing and kneeling).

It is the first time the former Mark Hall School and Harlow College student has competed at a Commonwealth Games.

Speaking to BBC Essex in India, Huckle said after his silver medal: "Obviously I'm really pleased. You have got to hope your partner shoots well and I know Kenny can shoot well."

"You always go for gold but to be only behind the Olympic and world champions is a good result. It will stand us in good stead. "I started off really well and Kenny's experience shone through."

Huckle was even pleased for the pair that beat him and Parr to the gold. "They are under so much pressure over here and it's good to see them do well."

"I needed to keep my focus to get the silver. We felt we had a good chance to get a medal and we can be proud of that. The pressure is now off."

Commenting on his bronze medal, Huckle said: "It was like being on a roller coaster for 15 minutes. I started the final two points behind Kenny [Parr] after the qualification round, which was a lot to make up, so it was going to be a tough challenge."

"But my first three shots went really well and Kenny was not shooting as well as he can do so I thought 'OK, let's see what can happen here'."

"It was so close, I just tried to concentrate on my shooting. I didn't think about the bronze until after my last shot, when I checked the final scoreboard."

However, Huckle is just pleased to be competing - and winning - medals. "It's great. It's a fantastic experience. India is culturally very different to back home."

"Everyone's in the same position. We were not expecting five star, but the athletes' village is great."

Rams need win to avoid repeat of '03-04 season

THE Rams must kick-start their season with a win - otherwise there is a danger they will suffer a dreadful campaign similar to that of seven years ago.

Harlow were two divisions higher than now when they won only one league game in the whole of the 2003-04 season. Back then they did not win a game until November 1 of that season.

After being relegated they won just three league games in 2004-05, suffering another relegation.

The defeat against Canvey Island last Saturday was with a weakened side and was the fourth loss of the season. Two defeats have been by narrow margins. However, losing can become ingrained and desperately difficult to shake off in rugby where it is not as easy as sports such as football, where a club can strengthen a squad significantly during the season.

Harlow, whose absentees included director of rugby Lee Harron (work) and hooker Martin Mallia (shoulder injury), were undone by a fit and mobile Canvey side.

Harlow had the slope in their favour in the first half and enjoyed territorial advantage in the first quarter.

However, they were thwarted by Canvey Island's strong defence. The visitors had the edge up front in all areas. Rams fly-half Michael Dobson missed two long-range penalty attempts before Canvey went ahead on the half-hour mark.
